

CrossCurrent, Inc. launches new website

Portland, OR, November 27, 2007—CrossCurrent, Inc. is launching a new website for its INCISIVE reimbursement solutions and company information. "We believe that the new website will allow us to better serve the needs of our visitors," says Alex Nelson, VP of Sales and Marketing. INCISIVE is the first comprehensive reimbursement software solution developed in collaboration with spine, orthopaedic, and neurosurgeons.

About CrossCurrent, Inc.

CrossCurrent, founded in 2002, is a healthcare information technology company dedicated to helping its customers increase revenue. CrossCurrent's INCISIVE™ software solutions provide innovative planning, coding and revenue management solutions designed specifically for orthopedic, spine and neurosurgeons.